This is a great ice breaker/introduction game - especially if you will be with the club members for a length of time and/or have many new travelers. It will help you and the club members remember each other's names!

We have two escorts so each of us will take a side of the bus and we have a contest as to which escort has the best memory! If you have a really good memory-try the whole bus!

To start—you explain that each club member needs to think of an adjective describing them, that starts with the first letter of their first name—example—boppin Bob.

As the escort you start—Rockin Robin, then you ask the first person for their adjective and name-Merry Mary, you then repeat your name and the new name—example— Rockin Robin, Merry Mary

Then you go to the next person, ask them—Joyful Jean and then you start at the beginning—example—Rockin Robin, Merry Mary, Joyful Jean, and you continue all the way, asking each person for their name and adjective and repeating from the beginning to the back of the bus. Everyone has an adjective attached to their name.

I can guarantee you will remember the club members names and the club members will remember each other. It gets crazy and everyone ends up laughing at the mistakes the escorts make - and believe me—they will correct you!
